DeLorenzo Earns Certified Ethical Hacker Certification

WILKES-BARRE, PA – January 17, 2008 – Melissa DeLorenzo, a Senior IT Consultant with Parente Randolph, has successfully completed the CEH exam, earning her certification as a Certified Ethical Hacker. This valuable designation in the network security and IT auditing fields demonstrates an individual's expertise in the specific discipline of "Ethical Hacking," which signifies a computer and network expert who attacks a security system on behalf of its owners, seeking vulnerabilities that a malicious hacker could exploit.

DeLorenzo, who works in Parente Randolph's Corporate Governance and Risk Management Division in the Firm's Wilkes-Barre office, successfully completed the 22-part CEH exam, which evaluated her for a full range of network security testing. She is also a Microsoft Certified Professional.

Parente Randolph is one of the top 35 accounting and consulting firms in the United States and is headquartered in Philadelphia.
