

Human Resources Consulting

Since 1997, Parente HR Services has been providing human resources consulting to companies with less than 50 employees and as many as 10,000 employees. These clients represent a wide spectrum of business and industry, including healthcare, financial services, technology, manufacturing, transportation and professional services.

Parente HR Services provides our consulting clients with the close attention that they deserve. We offer you the level of services and commitment that the national firms save for their largest clients. We have the resources, knowledge, experience and business partner relationships to ensure your goal is met.
